STRATHCLYDE COUNTRY PARK

The Blue Route

Distance: 4 miles / 6.4 km Time: 1hr 30mins Grade: Easy Start Point: Foreshore / Watersports Centre You can join this route from a variety of points, the route consists of a tarmac path all the way around Strathclyde Loch. The route is mostly flat with the odd gentle slope. This route also benefits from X benches both with and without arms as well as picnic benches and an open gazebo. There is ample seating along this route.

The Orange Route

Distance: 1.5 miles / 2.4 km Time: 40 mins Grade: Easy Start Point: Watersports Centre From the Watersports Centre, follow the path around the loch heading towards the large tower and Piper Alpha Memorial, where you will come across the way-markers. The path meanders through open grassland and small patches of mixed woodland. Ideal if time is limited. The majority of this route follows flat surfaced paths, although there is a set of steps and a tight gap at Hamilton Road. The route can be cut short in order to avoid these features.

The Yellow Route

Distance: 3.1 miles / 5 km Time: 1hr 15mins Grade: Moderate Start Point: Roman Fort Car Park This route follows a section of the Greenlink along the bank of the South Calder Water. The route passes through sections of mixed woodland and open parkland, passing under the viaduct. The best place to start this route would be from the Roman Fort Car Park. There are a couple of sections involving slopes with several sets of steps.

The Red Route

Distance: 1.3 miles / 2.1 km (Extension 1 mile/1.4 km) Time: 30mins (15mins) Grade: Moderate Start Point: Foreshore Car Park This route meanders through the mixed woodland, following good surfaced tracks. There is an option to make the route a little longer, but this includes a short section of road, approx. 450m, where there is no pavement. If you have a car, the best place to park would be at the Foreshore car park. From there, head towards the toilet block on the other side of the road, away from the loch. Follow the path up past the toilet block to where it meets the way-marked route
